

TJCI Weekend 17—19 May 2019

Looking in the Mirror

The Messianic Jewish Movement as the God-given 'Other' for the Church

Marty Waldman

and

Bracha

For nearly 2000 years, the Christian church mainly consisted of non-Jews and the voice of Jewish followers of the Messiah was not heard. That centuries-long silence has been broken in our time.

In the rise of the Messianic Jewish movement, God gives the worldwide church an 'Other', opposite ourselves. It is as if the Christian church gets a mirror presented. And in the encounter with Jews who confess Jesus as Messiah, this happens automatically.

Both Messianic Jewish speakers are intensively involved in this new challenge for the worldwide church. Marty is a rabbi in Dallas (USA) and Bracha is manager of the TJCI office in Jerusalem.

Join us in this meeting and experience encounter with the Messianic Jewish "Opposite" during this conference!
